HW 1

Question 5
The goal of this course is to pass. I want to get a good grade to help my gpa, and maybe learn some real world applications in programming and data analysis. I'm a computer science major, so I have taken Comp Sci 101-201. I am fairly competent in programming. As for my plans, I'd like to apply to grad school for cyber-security, and if I get in, either go directly after college or defer admission for a year to work full time and take a break from school. There are still some things that need to be decided.
